

POST WAR YEARS COLD WAR FEARS

American Culture and Politics, 1946-1960

As Americans turned to civilian pursuits in the wake of World War II, they lived with two contradictory sentiments: the hope for prosperity and security, and the gnawing fear of atomic disaster. You are invited to explore the political and social history of the postwar period through Post War Years, Cold War Fears: American Culture and Politics, 1946-1960, a six-part film and discussion series. Post War Years examines how America's new affluence, combined with the demographic shift to the suburbs, created a new consumer culture that would alter traditional American values and eventually engender the counterculture of the 1960s. The program also investigates the origin and progression of the Cold War as Presidents Truman and Eisenhower sought to implement policies of containment that would thwart Communist expansion. Post War Years will be moderated by Michael D'Innocenzo, the host of last fall's very popular series From Rosie to Roosevelt. Mr. D'Innocenzo is Professor of History at Hofstra University and The Harry H. Wachtel Distinguished Teaching Professor for the Study of Nonviolent Social Change. During each program an award-winning documentary film will be shown. Mr. D'Innocenzo will set the scene for each film and provide background information to enhance the viewing experience. Participants will have the opportunity to discuss the films and share their own experiences.

All programs will take place at the Northport Library. Refreshments will be served.

Post War Hopes and Fears

(N) Friday, October 11, 10:00 a.m.
Film: Postwar Hopes, Cold War Fears (from A Walk Through the 20th Century with Bill Moyers)

The 1950s was a decade of paradox—unbounded optimism and growing economic strength existing side by side with increasing fear for national security.

Towards an Affluent Society

(N) Friday, October 25, 10:00 a.m.
Films: The G.I. Bill and Let's Play House (from David Halberstam's The Fifties)

Enacted in 1944, the G.I. Bill fueled a postwar housing boom and made home ownership, a college degree, and a good job accessible to millions. But this period also saw changes in family life and gender roles that would dominate the 1950s.

Truman and National Security

(N) Friday, November 8, 10:00 a.m.
Film: Truman
Succeeding to office on Roosevelt's death in 1945, Harry Truman shaped the policies that would define the U.S. role in the Cold War for nearly four decades.

Eisenhower and the Cold War

(N) Friday, November 22, 10:00 a.m.
Film: Eisenhower

This film chronicles the major policies and events of Eisenhower's two terms in office, including his determination to contain communism, his reliance on covert actions, and his attempts at detente with Khrushchev.

Roots of the Counterculture

(N) Friday, December 6, 10:00 a.m.
Film: Beat (from David Halberstam's The Fifties)
The conservative psychology of the Cold War gave birth to a growing discontent among many artists. This film chronicles the New York City art scene, the emergence of rhythm and blues, the formation of the "Beats," and the emergence of a youth culture.

Civil Rights: A Rising Wind

(N) Friday, January 10, 10:00 a.m.
Film: The Rage Within (from David Halberstam's The Fifties)
The fight for civil rights in the U.S. is as old as the nation, but during the two decades following World War II U.S. racism came under closer scrutiny.

FOR ADULTS

FIRESIDE FRIDAY

Little Toby Walker
(EN) Friday, October 25, 7:30 p.m.

Library Closed?
“Live Librarian” Can Help!
Monday-Thursday 3:00-11:00 pm
Sunday 5:00-11:00 pm

Are you frustrated with Internet search engine results numbering in the thousands? Are you a student who forgot about your assignment until the last minute and now the Library is closed?

Connect to the Library's homepage at www.nenpl.org and click on the “Live Librarian” link to reach a librarian on duty. You will start a one-on-one Internet talk session with a Reference Librarian. After discussing your information requirements, the librarian will use an array of Internet subscriptions and databases to help find your answer. Upon finding information, the librarian can forward the search results to your home computer.

This individualized service is a cooperative project of the public libraries of Suffolk County.

To Your Health

The Health Center in the Northport Library has many new periodicals and newsletters, in addition to some old favorites. The Fun-Loving Fifties

As tumultuous as the fifties were, it was also a time of hope and optimism. The "Golden Age of Television" brought us comedians Milton Berle, Lucille Ball, Sid Caesar, and Abbott and Costello. We wiggled in our hula hoops, admired the new Ford Thunderbird and ate TV dinners.

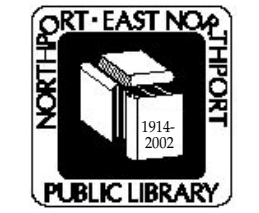

Take our fifties trivia quiz, and if you don't know the answers you may want to look at some of the following materials available in the Library.

- ♥ Marilyn Monroe, Tony Curtis, and Jack Lemmon were bosom buddies in what 1959 movie?
- ♥ What magical fluid invented in 1956 made mistakes easier to deal with?
- ♥ In 1957 what radio show did Alan Freed host?
- ♥ What lovable redhead debuted in a 1951 TV series?
- ♥ Who signed his third contract for $100,000 with the New York Yankees in 1951?
