A Treasure-Trove of Fiction

From murder mysteries to love stories, Long Island has been the backdrop for a treasure-trove of fiction. Here is a sampling from the Library's collection.

After This by Alice McDermott
This portrait of an American family during the middle decades of the 20th century evokes the social, spiritual, and political turmoil of the era.

Aloft by Chang-rae Lee
A visit from his daughter and her fiancé prompts Jerry Battle to reassess his life and relationships as he reflects on his professional success and his love of flying solo.

Amagansett by Mark Mills
Conrad Labarde, a reclusive fisherman, finds his life transformed when he pulls up the body of a beautiful young woman in his fishing nets.

As Husbands Go by Susan Isaacs
Astonished when her seemingly devoted husband is found murdered in a prostitute's apartment, Susie bristles at her neighbors' mixed reactions and sets out to restore her family's honor.

Beach Road by James Patterson
Hoping to revamp his career when he is hired to represent a triple-murder suspect, Montauk lawyer Tom Dunleavy finds the case complicated by his client's popularity and a dangerous secret being protected by East Hampton's privileged class.

The Fourth Victim by Tony Spinosa
After four truck drivers are robbed and murdered, the identity of the fourth victim compels former policemen Joe Serpe and Bob Healy to start their own investigation into the killings.

The Gate House by Nelson DeMille
This sequel to The Gold Coast follows the homecoming of John Sutter, who finds himself living in close proximity to his ex-wife Susan and is targeted by her dead lover's mafia son.

The Great Gatsby by F. Scott Fitzgerald
F. Scott Fitzgerald's classic tale set in the Roaring Twenties is about a newly-rich young man who tries to recapture the past and win back his former love.

Jacob's Folly by Rebecca Miller
An 18th century Jewish peddler is reincarnated as a fly in present-day Long Island, and becomes involved in the lives of two residents.

Lapham Rising by Roger Rosenblatt
An eccentric writer living as a recluse with his talking dog comes up with a scheme to take on his irritating new neighbor.

Red like Wine: The North Fork Harbor Vineyard Murders by Joseph Finora
Crime writer Vin Gusto and his former girlfriend discover that more than wine is being made at the local vineyard.

Summer Reading by Hilma Woltz
The story of three women whose disparate lives intersect in the Hamptons.

Discover Long Island ... Your Treasure Island!

treasure something that is very important or valuable; something of great worth or value

So many of us travel long distances to visit unique landmarks and tourist sites. We need not go far to discover some of the most interesting attractions and historical sites the world has to offer—right here in our own backyard. Long Island is a trove of delightful points of interest and activities that will excite your curiosity and fill you with wonderment—an island filled with treasures! You could fill an entire calendar year with things to do and places to see on Long Island. There are activities that will engage and interest every member of your family. Take a few hours, or a few days, to seek out the picturesque, the entertaining, and the educational venues that are right outside your door.

Want to spend the day hiking or picnicking? Visit one of Long Island's many state parks for everything from rustic woodlands to manicured gardens, to campsites and bridle paths. Visit the Bayard Cutting Arboretum in Oakdale, Bethpage State Park in Farmingdale, Captree in Babylon, Caumsett in Lloyd Harbor, Hempstead Lake in West Hempstead, and Hither Hills in Montauk.

Consider this—Long Island has 400 miles of coastline. That affords us some of the best beaches, fishing, boat charters, and sunsets to be had—Jones Beach, the Hamptons, the Freeport Nautical Mile, Bayshore Marina, Fire Island, the Village of Greenport, Sag Harbor, and even our own Northport Village. These are just some of the shoreline areas that provide access to an abundance of water activities—everything from swimming to entertainment cruises.

Visit some of our East End wineries; go see the Big Duck in Flanders; experience the thrill of Long Island's water and amusement parks; pick your own strawberries, peaches, and apples at an orchard. The possibilities are limitless.

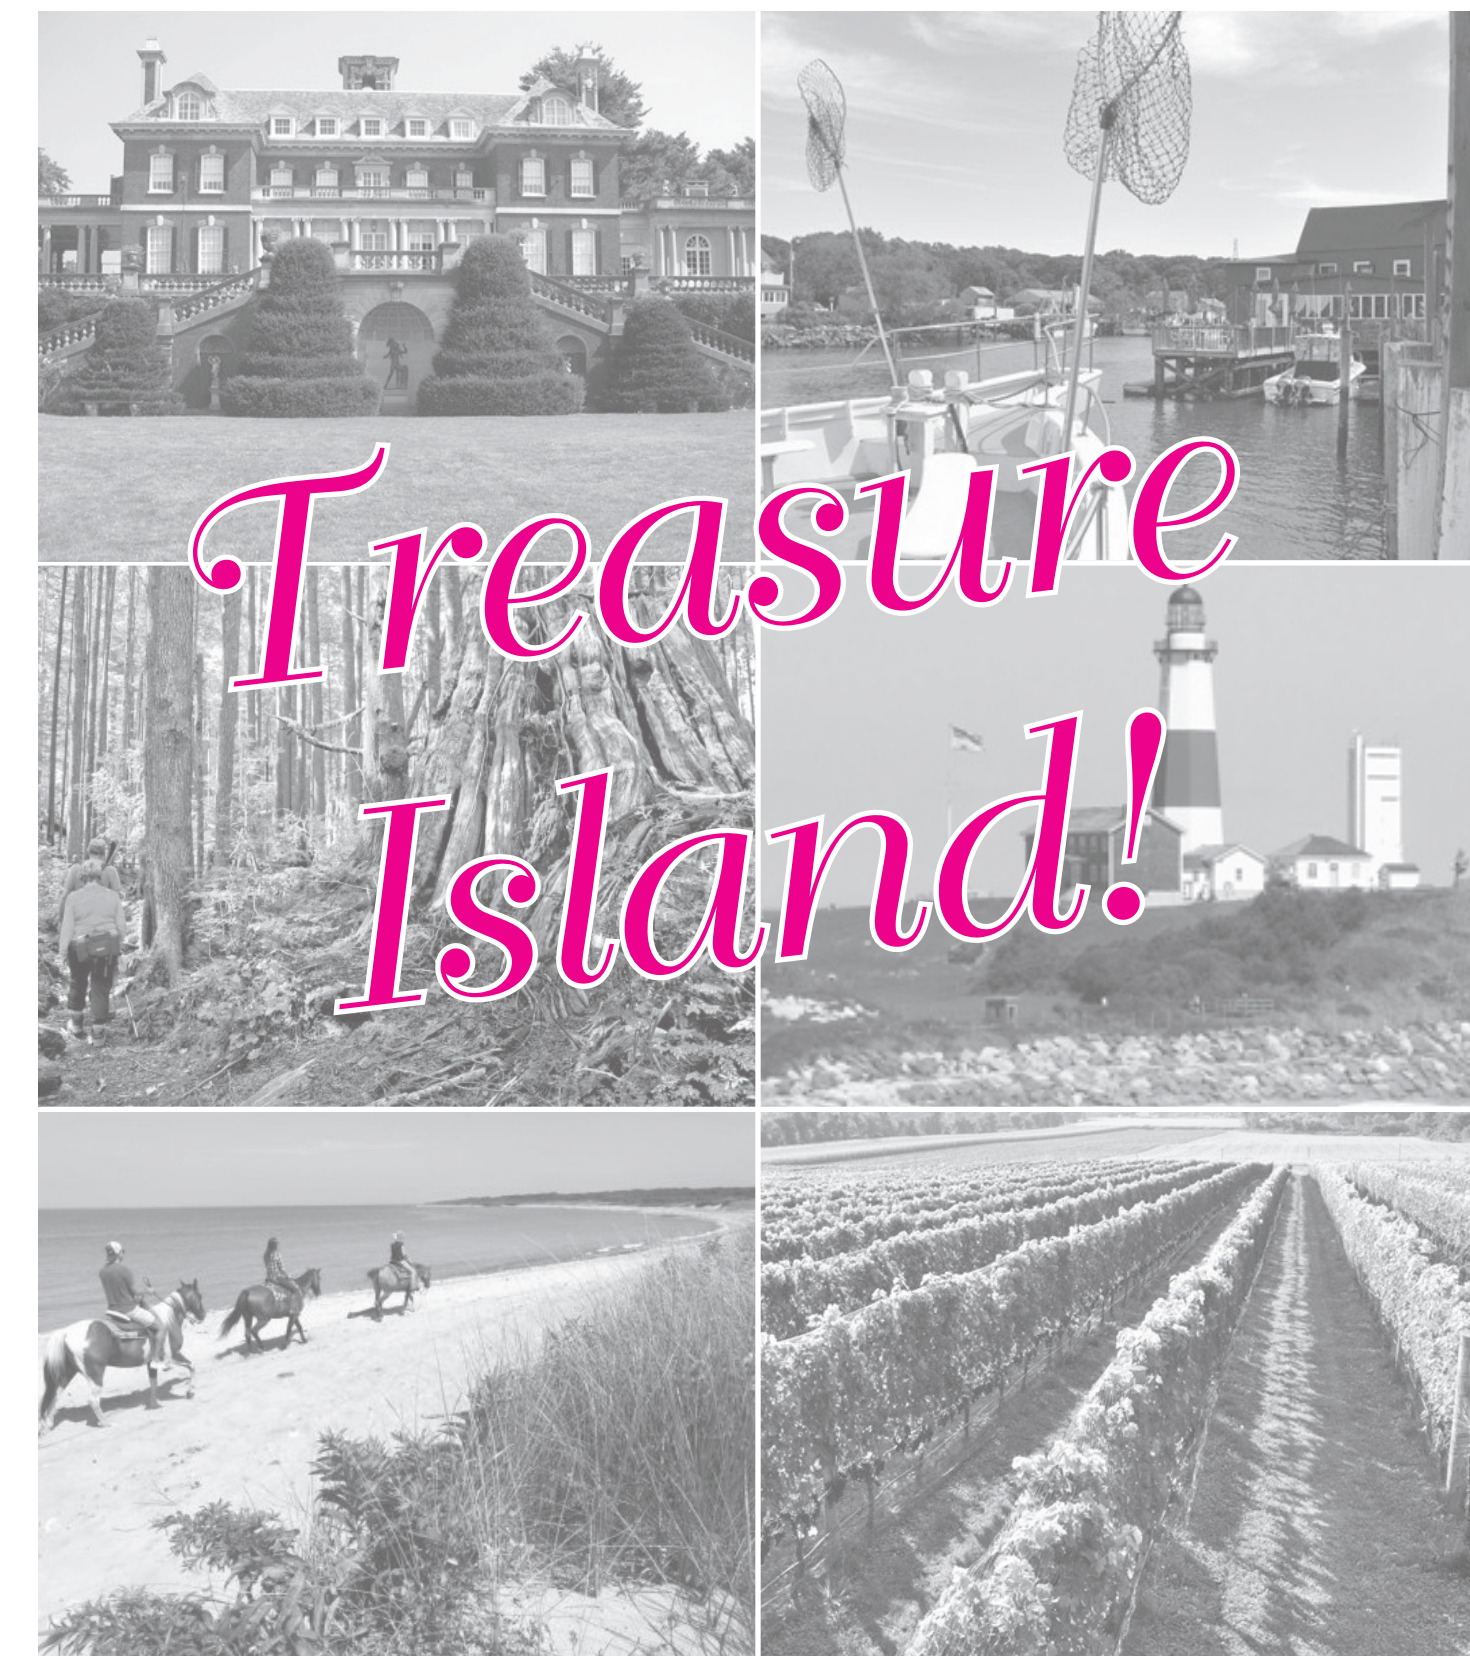

Did you know that you and your family can visit many Long Island museums free of charge? The Library's Museum Passes are available to patrons with a valid NENPL Library Card. For specific information about each museum, please visit the Library's website at www.nenpl.org and click on the Museum Pass link. If you need help making a reservation, please ask a Reference Librarian. Passes for museums located on Long Island include:

- Cold Spring Harbor Fish Hatchery
- Cold Spring Harbor Whaling Museum
- Cradle of Aviation Museum
- Heckscher Museum of Art
- Long Island Children's Museum
- The Long Island Museum of American Art History and Carriages
- Old Westbury Gardens
- Parrish Art Museum
- Suffolk County Vanderbilt Museum
- Walt Whitman Birthplace
