Beyond Death: Medical Facts, Myths, and Meditation

Since the 1970s when near-death experiences were first studied by Drs. Charles and Susan Murray, there have been many books, documentaries, and books written about those who have had near-death experiences. Dr. Murray will discuss what has been learned about near-death experiences from recent research and technologies. He will discuss where science and faith have been able to come together and how, to date, no one has been able to prove or disprove the claim of immortality.

February 12, 7:00 p.m.

The Northport Arts Coalition, in cooperation with the Northport Library, presents "Beethoven for All," a series of classical music performances. For the fifth installment in our film series, we will be featuring the world premiere of Beyond Death: Medical Facts, Myths, and Meditation, a documentary that features interviews with cardiac surgeon Dr. Matthew Raider, M.D. on his experiences with patients who have had near-death experiences. The film includes an interview with Dr. Raider at the site of the cardiac trauma center at North Shore-LIJ Medical Center. Dr. Raider will share some revealing perspective on his work and his research into near-death experiences. The documentary was produced by Ken Karp and Rumi Balgaal.
