

Celebrate Older Americans Month

Wills and Estates with Judge John M. Czygier

(N) Monday, May 12, 7:00 p.m.
Did you know that if you don't have a will, state law will determine who gets your property or a judge can decide who will raise your children? John M. Czygier, a judge with the Surrogate's Court of Suffolk County and a respected jurist in matters of estate administration, will talk about the importance of having a will. Your questions are welcome. Registration begins May 1 at either library building or online. (NENA451)

All About Forgetfulness

(N) Wednesday, May 7, 3:00 p.m.
Many older people worry about becoming more forgetful—but how do you know what's normal when it comes to forgetting and remembering? Alana Rosenstein, LMSW from the Long Island Alzheimer's Foundation will discuss reversible causes of memory loss, what to do if you think someone has a memory problem, as well as tips on successful aging. No registration required.

The ABCs of Medicare

(N) Tuesday, May 13, 3:00 p.m.
Explore the basics of Medicare including the Part D prescription drug plan with Medicare specialist Carol Kaplowitz. She will answer your questions about supplemental coverage, the Medicare Advantage Plan, and changes for 2014. Medicare booklets will be available. Registration begins May 1 at either library or online. (NENA452)

Be a Road Scholar

(N) Thursday, June 5, 7:00 p.m.
Discover a great way to learn, volunteer, and travel the world. Road Scholar (formerly Elderhostel) is a not-for-profit organization which offers more than 6,500 programs in 150 countries and is affiliated with the world's leading universities, museums, and cultural institutions. Frances La Duca, a Road Scholar Ambassador, will share information and practical advice for those wishing to learn more about the exciting Road Scholar program. No registration required.

Learn How to Grow Blue Ribbon Chrysanthemums

(N) Thursday, May 29, 7:30 p.m.
No other flower brings as much vitality and color to a garden as the chrysanthemum. Award-winning gardener Rita Rover will explore the fundamentals of growing exhibition mums, starting from rooted cuttings and ending with magnificent, show-quality blooms. Ms. Rover has a masters degree in botany from Columbia University and has taught biology and horticulture at SUNY Farmingdale. She is an accredited judge for the National Chrysanthemum Society. No registration required.

Stroke Awareness

(EN) Friday, May 30, 10:00 a.m.
One in six people will have a stroke in their lifetime. In this informative program sponsored by Sysset Hospital-North Shore LJJ, registered nurse Joyce Harris will provide important information about stroke and stroke prevention. She will discuss things you can do to prevent a stroke, how to recognize a stroke, and the impact a stroke can have on survivors and caretakers. Your questions are welcome. No registration required.

Reducing Your Risk of Falls

(N) Thursday, May 15, 7:00 p.m.
Falls are a leading cause of hospitalizations and injury for all age groups, but especially for seniors. Jane McCormack, RN, BSN, Trauma Program Manager at Stony Brook University Hospital, will discuss how seniors and their adult children can assess their own risk of falling and implement some simple fall reduction strategies. No registration required.

Senior Information Fair

(EN) Thursday, May 8, 10:00 a.m.-1:00 p.m.

Your Library... Trending for 100 Years!

Beehive hairdos, lava lamps, pet rocks, "yadda yadda yadda"—everyone likes to keep up with the trends. By knowing what "everyone is talking about," we stay in touch with family, community, and the world-at-large. Trends come and go but there will never be a shortage of new ideas that grab our attention and influence our lifestyle. Throughout the years, your public library remains an enduring presence. Whether it's the latest good books or current events; research endeavors or recreational pursuits; money-saving ideas or entertainment interests; the Library has been there to provide you with the guidance, the access, and the tools to engage in whatever direction society may be trending.

Here's What's Trending Now...

Technology—Portable devices are where we're heading. A small, handheld device is capable of emailing, accessing the Internet, texting, taking pictures, and making phone calls! The world is at our fingertips—if only we knew how to use the darn things! The Library can help. Monthly computer classes help you learn about the newest technologies—computers, digital cameras, iPads, iPhones, and Androids. One-on-one appointments are also available for instruction in the use of your Kindle or Nook.

Money—These economic times have been hard on each of us in one way or another. Finding a job, investing our money, making purchases—

the Library has financial and consumer resources to help you manage your money wisely and a dedicated Center to assist in career moves and decisions.
Reading—This is one trend that has never left us, and our choices have never been more varied. Fiction and nonfiction titles are now available in print, large print, audio, and downloadable formats. Whatever your reading pleasure, new releases and classic titles in all of your favorite genres are waiting for you at the Library. The Library hosts three different book discussion groups each month and new members are always welcome. Please speak to a Reference Librarian when you're looking for that next good read.

Information—It's all about empowerment. The better educated we are, the better decisions we make. Whether it's a consumer concern or a health decision; a college paper or homework help; a car repair or a family tree—the Library provides free access to subscription databases and Librarian-selected online resources that provide authoritative and dependable information. Simply searching the Internet can be overwhelming and ineffective. Let a Reference Librarian show you how to access reliable web links from the Library's home page.

Trends change and evolve, and the Library provides you with the access and the knowledge necessary to change and evolve right along with them. Keep trending with your Library!
