The Northport Arts Coalition presents Dancing with Jane Austen & Scarlett O'Hara

Social dancing in the 19th century and earlier was often done in groups—long lines of couples—as portrayed in Jane Austen movies and Civil War sagas Rather than isolating people, as couples dances may do, early American dances promoted interaction with everyone in the room (ultimately to aid in finding a marriage candidate). These simple dances are called Contra Dancing or English Country Dancing. Larry Moser and Mary Nagin will provide live music as Annette Kirk and her dancers partner up with you in a program of mix-and-mingle dances. No registration required.

Paper Angels Film Premiere (N) Monday, October 6,

7:30 p.m. Join filmmakers A.J. Ingoglia and Bob O'Reilly for the Northport premiere of Paper Angels, their new movie about two strangers touched in very different ways by the tragedy of September 11. Mr. Ingolgia and Mr. O'Reilly were both in Northport High School at the time of the 911 terrorist attacks. They still remember the many personal tragedies of that day. After graduating from the Savannah College of Art and Design, the young filmmakers searched for a script that would reflect the personal experiences of Long Islanders and they found one by award-winning writer Charles Hall.

Paper Angels has won numerous distinctions including "Best Short Film" at the 2008 Long Island International Film Expo and "Best Dramatic Short" at the 2008 Reno Film Festival. A question and answer period with the filmmakers will follow the screening. No registration required.
